ESOPUS TOWN BOARD DECIDES TO MAINTAIN BRIDGE LIGHTS

Saturday at Meeting of Board Justice McKenzie Calls Up His Resolution to Light Esopus End of Rondout Creek Bridge—Resolution is Adopted.

Saturday afternoon the town board of the town of Esopus met at the town clerk's office and voted in favor of paying for lighting the Esopus end of the Rondout Creek Bridge. There are five members of the board and two of them refused to vote on the resolution, either for or against. The three who voted in favor were Justice Henry McKenzie, Justice Charles C. Beaver and Justice Jacob Best. The two who refused to vote were Supervisor Elmer Ellsworth and Justice Leon Van Wageningen. The board transacted the usual routine business and then Justice McKenzie called up his resolution directing the town supervisor to enter into a contract with the Kingston Gas & Electric Company. After some discussion and argument, the lighting of Perrine's Bridge and the Eddyville Bridge were stricken from the resolution at the request of Justice Van Wageningen and the resolution as adopted provides for the lighting of the Rondout Creek Bridge only. The connecting stretch of road between the Esopus bridge and the state road in Port Ewen is already lighted.

CARE IN CHANGING GAS STANDARD

Public Service Commission Warns Companies to Watch Effect on Consumers' Appliances and to Remedy Complaints Promptly.

Albany, Sept. 30.—In furtherance of its plan that the change in gas standards recently ordered by the public service commission may be accomplished with complete satisfaction to consumers, the commission is today sending a letter to each of the 29 gas corporations outside of New York city upon whom the order was served. Other steps are also being taken by the commission to insure the above results. The letter is as follows: "The commission wishes to impress upon you the necessity for the use of great care in changing the value of the gas furnished from the 5.5 standard to 5.7, as provided in the order recently served upon your corporation. This change should be effected in such a manner as to produce the minimum effect on the appliances of your consumers. It is essential that you be prepared to handle all complaints which arise irrespective of whether they are caused by the change or not. Your complaint bureaus should be kept informed constantly of the quality of gas which is being furnished. Every effort should be made to acquaint your customers of what to expect as a result of the change. If convenient and possible, instructions for the care of appliances should be brought to their attention in order that existing defects which might be attributed to the change, but which in reality are due to other causes, may be eliminated.

"The reception of this change by your customers will in large part depend upon the methods employed by your corporation in putting it in effect, and the commission urges upon you that your duty involves more than the usual amount of vigilance and efficiency."

HORNSTEIN'S CAR STOPPED SHORT OF DISASTER

Sunday afternoon William Hornstein of Hoboken, N. J., became involved while running his sedan auto when the driver of a car which he was behind turned unexpectedly while on the Kingston-West Hurley highway approaching the city just over the Higginsville bridge. Hornstein's car ran to the retaining stone wall, of the grade, the front wheels climbing to the top where the car balanced, fortunately stopping or it would have gone over a drop of several feet. There were four passengers in the Hornstein car. The car was hauled back to the roadway unharmed.

M. KENNEY GOING WITH PROHIBITION DEPT.

Lawrence M. Kenney, who retired as postmaster of Saugerties, after nearly eight years of service, will enter the employ of the government and be connected with the Prohibition enforcement department under State Director Day. Mr. Kenney has just returned from New York city where he had a small growth removed from his right eye, at the Manhattan Eye and Ear Infirmary.

MUMPS CLOSES SCHOOL AT LAKE KATRINE FOR WEEK

Due to an epidemic of mumps among the children at Lake Katrine, the school there was closed for the week today. When the children reported to the school this morning they were told of the enforced vacation. None of the pupils appeared to be displeased.

Some Minor Accidents.

Adelbert Whipple reported to the police department Saturday evening that as he drove out of East Union street his automobile was struck by a trolley car and the mud guard was smashed and two rear tires blown out. Walter Brannigan reported that car bearing the license number C-855 N. Y., had struck his automobile Saturday evening near the state ferry, bending a fender and a hub

NEW SITE FOR P. O. STATION

Post-office Department Closes Proposals This Week—Seven Locations Have Been Offered—Many Favor Mansion House Corner.

Postmaster DeWitt has been granted the present week to close all proposals for new quarters for the Rondout sub-station of the post-office department. Seven different locations are being considered. Which one will be selected, of course, is not known at the present time. A majority of the downtown business men favor the Mansion House corner, which is among the seven that have been offered. As soon as choice is made by the department it will be announced in The Freeman. The present lease does not expire until April 1, 1923.

AUTO TRUCK FOR P. O. DEPARTMENT

Need Of Modern Facilities For Handling Kingston's Parcel Post Business Brought To Attention Of Department—New Auto Truck Now In Use.

A parcel post automobile truck service has been granted by the post-office department to Kingston post-office. Postmaster DeWitt has brought to the attention of the department each year the largely increased parcel post business in the Kingston office and stations and a few weeks ago post-office inspectors made a survey of this city. They found the present horse-drawn vehicles inadequate to handle the business with facility and dispatch and made a report to that effect. The department promptly acted and authorized Postmaster DeWitt to change the equipment.

This morning the new auto truck was placed in commission and made its first trips. William Newkirk has been placed in charge of the truck. All parcel post deliveries in Kingston in the future will be made with the new truck. Mounted districts Nos. 1 and 16, have been provided with new equipment bringing them up-to-date. No. 1 district covers Delaware avenue and vicinity. No. 16 district covers the Wilbur section of the city. These new wagons take the place of antiquated rigs that have been in service.

CONSTANTINE GETS $25,000 EXPENSES

Athens, Oct. 2.—Before leaving Greece for exile abroad, Constantine, the abdicated king, asked the Greek revolutionary committee to declare his exile only temporary, but the committee refused, it was learned today. The only concession made to the departing members of the royal family was the grant of $25,000 for expenses. King George has issued a proclamation saying that his father's abdication is "final and complete." There have been two withdrawals from the provisional cabinet. M. Politis refused the portfolio of foreign affairs and M. Dimeas rejected the post of minister of finance. The latter declined on the ground that the cabinet should be non-political.

The Serbian minister has promised the support of Yugoslavia to the new Greek administration. The British minister visited headquarters of the revolutionary committee and it was believed that Great Britain will recognize the new regime on certain conditions. M. Romanos has been appointed new Greek ambassador to France, and M. Caelamano has been named Greek minister to London.

HARDY BADLY HURT IN FALL

Daniel F. Hardy of No. 32 Jarrold street, an employe of the Ulster & Delaware railroad, is in the Kingston City Hospital with a broken leg and other injuries sustained this morning in a fall from the roof of the railroad round house on the Strand. Hardy with other men were busy at work putting a new roof on the building, when he lost his balance and fell from the roof to the ground below. He was picked up and carried into the railroad office and Dr. A. A. Stern and Dr. E. E. Norwood were called. After applying first aid the man was rushed to the hospital where it was stated that his injuries were quite serious.

"USE 'EM ROUGH" IS JOE'S MOTTO

Mrs. Stewart Has Broken Rib as Result of Assault Alleged to Have Been Committed by Man Who Captured German Machine Gun Squad. The only way to make the women respect you is to "use 'em rough" is evidently the belief of Joe Charles of No. 45 Murray street, the man who captured a German machine gun squad during the World War for which he was decorated by the United States government, who was arrested Saturday evening by Officer Fout on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against Joe by Mrs. Susie Stewart.

At police headquarters Joe was paroled that evening on his promise to behave himself and show up in police court for his trial this morning. Joe must have forgotten his promise, for he is now under arrest on a charge of assault in the third degree, alleged to have been committed on Mrs. Stewart. The police informed Judge Schirick this morning that the case would have to be adjourned until later, as Mrs. Stewart as a result of the assault had sustained a broken rib and other injuries and was confined to her bed. The hearing was adjourned to Monday and bail fixed at $50 by Judge Schirick.

SUPREME COURT FORMALLY CONVENES AND ADJOURNS

Washington, Oct. 2.—The supreme court of the United States convened today for the regular fall term at 12:05 p. m. and after a short session, during which no decisions were handed down, the court adjourned to pay the customary call of courtesy to President Harding at the White House.

George Sutherland of Utah, was sworn in as associate justice in place of John H. Clarke of Ohio, who recently resigned to devote his time to furtherance of the League of Nations.

Siki To Fight German.

Paris, Oct. 2.—A bout has been arranged between "Battling" Siki, negro conqueror of Georges Carpentier, and Breitenstraetter, German heavyweight champion, at Amsterdam on Friday night, it was reported today.

Hurt in Trolley Accident.

New York, Oct. 2.—Two men were fatally injured today when a trolley car jumped a switch in the Ridgewood section of Brooklyn. Leon Sawicki, motorman, and Frank Hartman, a passenger, were taken to the hospital in a dying condition.

Kriegers Convey Land.

Joseph Krieger and wife have conveyed by deed the premises on the southern side of Van Buren street, recently purchased by him of Rosa Beale, to Thomas H. Edmonston and wife.

NO TURK ATTACK FOR THE PRESENT

Kemal Promises to Check Rumors and Withdrawals From Neutral Zone Continue—Armistice Conference Expected to be Preceded by "Peace Conference."

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Oct. 2.—While the near East situation has cleared as a result of arrangements for an armistice conference between the British and Turks at Mudania tomorrow, British officials declared today that danger of war in Asia Minor is not yet completely past.

Great Britain, it was stated, will not assist in putting down any Greek uprisings in Thrace unless the Turks leave the neutral zone along the Turkish straits. Shipment of British reinforcements and munitions to the Danubius will not cease until the neutral zone is clear of Turkish soldiers. General Sir Charles Harrison, British commander in chief at Constantinople, will represent the British in the armistice conference. France and Italy will be represented as well as the Turkish Nationalists. Arrangements for occupation of eastern Thrace by the Turks neutrality of the straits and demilitarization of Constantinople will be discussed.

Constantinople reports that the national assembly at Angora is completing the Turkish reply to the Allied peace note of August 2 and that it probably will be handed to the Allied high commission in Constantinople on Tuesday. All danger of a Turkish attack has been averted for the time being and there is a feeling of optimism in many quarters that the armistice negotiations will be quickly followed by arrangements for a peace conference, probably at Venice. Pending the armistice discussions, Kemal has promised not to attack Chanak or Constantinople and to order suspension of Turkish activities in Thrace.

FEAST OF TABERNACLES BEGINS NEXT FRIDAY

The Feast of Tabernacles, which in Hebrew bears the title Succoth, meaning booths, will be observed in the synagogues Friday evening, October 6th and on Saturday, October 7th, also on October 14th, the latter day being known as the Feast of Completion or Shmini Atzereth. Religious services are held on the first and last days in Reform Congregations and in Orthodox Congregations observe the first two days and the last two days as a holy convocation. The intervening days of the festive cycle are semi-religious and are so observed among the orthodox.

Succoth is of particular interest to the American people says the Jewish Holiday notice press bureau, since it is our national history. Our Thanksgiving Day was appropriated from the institution of the Feast of Tabernacles. In light of its Biblical origin Succoth reflects the agricultural environment and atmosphere of the feast. It is known in Scripture as the Feast of Ingathering (Exodus 23:16) and refers to that era when the Israelite farmer gathered in the fruit of his autumn the children of Israel flocked to the central sanctuary in solemn procession, carrying palms and plants. Hence this is also called a Pilgrimage Feast.

SISLER AND HORNBBY LEADING LEAGUE HITTERS

Ty Cobb Ties Burkett's Three-Season Record. New York, Oct. 2.—George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns, and Rogers Hornsby, of the St. Louis Cardinals, are the respective hitting champions of the American and National Leagues. Sisler finished the season yesterday with a mark of .415. Hornsby with .401, the latter being the first National League player to bat above .400 since Ed Delahanty turned the trick 23 years ago.

By getting a hit yesterday, Ty Cobb is made by some statisticians to bat an even .400 for the season, tying the major league mark held by Jesse Burkett of having accomplished the feat in three seasons. Other sources have Cobb hitting under the .400 mark.

The Georgian also tied Wagner's record of .300 or better for 17 seasons and more than 200 hits for eight seasons.

NO STATE OIL TAX UNDER MEXICAN COURT DECISION

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 2.—An important decision bearing upon the interests of American oil companies in Mexico has just been rendered by Secretary of Commerce, Industry and Labor Robles in the cabinet of President Obregon, according to reports received here today. The ruling held that only the federal government can fix oil taxes, and rebuked the authorities of the state of Vera Cruz for attempting to impose a state tax on petroleum produced in that state.

"Oo La La!"

By Telegram to The Freeman. Greenwich, Conn. Oct. 2.—"Oo la la!" wrote Mrs. R. L. Hutton, of New York city, in sending a keg containing $420 in pennies to a local taxi cab company for payment of bills for cab hire. Mrs. Hutton also sent her photograph.

Plot To Burn Constantinople.

Rome, Oct. 2.—British and Italian troops have taken over the police of Constantinople following the discovery of a plot to burn the city, said a despatch from Constantinople today.

Fire At Salonika.

Athens, Oct. 2.—Fire swept a portion of Salonika today doing heavy damage. Greek revolutionaries seized Salonika just before occupying Athens.

EUROPE MUST PAY DEBTS, SAY BANKERS, IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Opinion Seems General That Obligations Should be Funded Into Long-time Bonds at Low Interest—Loree Suggests Restrictions For Labor Unions.

New York, Oct. 2.—Europe must pay her indebtedness to the United States, in the opinion of scores of bankers attending the forty-eighth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association which opened here today. Not only the principal of the loan but the interest should be paid the bankers of the nation believe.

There were no "Shylocks" among the bankers interviewed who believed that Europe's last "pound of flesh" should be exacted, and that payment in full of the debt should be insisted upon as an immediate measure. Most of the financiers expressed the belief that time should be given the foreign nations for the liquidation of their obligations but that it would weaken the financial influence of the United States to forego collection of the debts.

"These debts should be put in a frozen zone and thawed out slowly," said Walker Hill, of the First National Bank of St. Louis. "The debts should all be paid but they should be funded into long time bonds at a low rate of interest." Of all the bankers who would express an opinion, only one spoke in favor of cancellation of the debt. Solon L. Palmer, of Benton, Ky., said that he thought the debts should be wiped out so that Europe can do business with the United States. Europe cannot buy our goods while it has this burden of debts and interest hanging over it, Palmer said.

The opening session of the convention was given over largely to sectional meetings at which technical problems of interest to bankers were discussed. That the convention will be the largest and most successful in the history of the association, was the universal belief of delegates. More than 10,000 bankers from all parts of the nation are in attendance. An address by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson railroad, featured the meeting of the clearing house section. Loree, who was spokesman for eastern railroads during the shopmen's strike, discussed the growth of labor unions, referring to them as "a menace to society." He advocated legislation imposing four restrictions upon labor unions, as follows:

- 1.—That labor organizations may be sued.
 - 2.—That accounts of unions shall be open for inspection and audit and use of union funds for political purposes shall be a criminal offense.
 - 3.—That a notice of a proposed strike must be given to a properly designated state officer at least 14 days before the date set for the walk-out.
 - 4.—That strike ballots shall be safeguarded to preserve freedom of action without intimidation or misrepresentation and that the result of the vote shall be final and not subject to veto or use of the chief officer.
- Modification of reparations payments from Germany by the Allied nations is necessary, "if they would maintain the civilization for which they fought," according to Thomas B. McAdams, president of the association, who addressed the convention today. McAdams declared the United States must use her resources to help bring about a "practical solution of the chaotic situation now threatening to destroy the economic life of Europe."

Class movements which "tend to advance the interests of one group at the expense of the nation as a whole," and "paternalism in government," were two of the internal problems of the United States, which require careful attention, McAdams declared. He deplored the growth of the idea that the government is the final resting place for the trials and tribulations of the people.

HIS SAUCINESS COST HIM $10

John Smith Forgot Or Did Not Know There Was Such a Thing As Contempt Of Court But Won't Forget It Again—Charged With Stealing Potatoes. After several warnings which fell on deaf ears Judge Schirick in police court this morning held John Smith in contempt of court and fined him $10 which he paid. John is accused by Samuel Salzberg of loading six barrels of sweet potatoes onto his wagon at No. 79 Broadway on August 25 and then driving away without paying the $15 charged for the six barrels.

John was arrested on a charge of petit larceny by Officer Saelhoff Sunday night and gave bail for his appearance in police court this morning. When John showed up it was quite evident that he had been sampling some joy water and as a result he forgot where he was and tried to inform Judge Schirick as the proper procedure to take in the matter. Judge Schirick realizing that John was far from sober adjourned the petit larceny case until Monday morning and fixed bail at $200. John immediately became abusive and the court found him guilty of contempt and imposed the ten dollar fine, which John reluctantly paid.

COLORED ORGANIZATION TO BE PERFECTED TONIGHT

All colored men are asked to assemble at the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church at 8 o'clock this evening to perfect plans for an organization for negro uplift. Over two thousand colored men it is expected will be added to the strength of the organization outside of the city. The men so organized will receive proper recognition. The organization will champion all negro rights in the country.

Kingston Vassar Group.

The Kingston Vassar Group will present the first of this year's series of lectures on October 13, (place of lecture to be announced later), when Dr. Bruno Roselli, professor of Italian at Vassar College, will speak on "Truth and Fiction of Post Bellum Life in Europe." On December 30, Dr. Chandler, dean of the University of Cincinnati, will lecture on some phases of "The Drama." In the spring there will be another group of art lectures, as those given last year proved to be so popular.

Plot To Burn Constantinople.

Rome, Oct. 2.—British and Italian troops have taken over the police of Constantinople following the discovery of a plot to burn the city, said a despatch from Constantinople today.

TO OCCUPY STORES IN U. S. HOTEL

The lower or street floor of the United States Hotel on Broadway at the West Shore, formerly the hotel office dining room and cafe is being converted into a sales room for the C. L. Tire Shop, quarters for I. O. Feldstein, ladies' and men's tailor, a near-beer and soft drink cafe for T. J. Leonard and a display room at the corner for Rickenbacker automobiles for the Columbia garage, the local distributors. The upper floors of the building are to be converted into offices.

MUNICIPAL FERRYBOAT DAMAGED IN N. Y. HARBOR

New York, Oct. 2.—Running at reduced speed through a heavy fog, the municipal ferryboat Brooklyn, plying between St. George, Staten Island, and New York, collided with or was run into by two freight barges in the upper bay today. Seventy-five feet of railing on the starboard side of the ferryboat was ripped away and windows demolished. The 500 passengers, 200 of them women, were panic-stricken for a moment but their fears were quickly allayed when it was found no one was injured.

ANGORA ASSEMBLY AGREES TO KEMAL'S CONFERENCE

London, Oct. 2.—The Turkish Angora assembly has unanimously approved the action of Kemal Pasha in agreeing to a preliminary conference with the British at Mudania and a final peace conference later, according to a Central News dispatch from Constantinople late this afternoon.

To Prevent Smuggling of Aliens.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The department of labor will urge congress to pass the Johnson and Shortridge bills providing for the registration of aliens as the only means of preventing foreigners from being smuggled into the United States. It was announced today. Immigration officials estimated that 40,000 Chinese are now in the United States illegally.

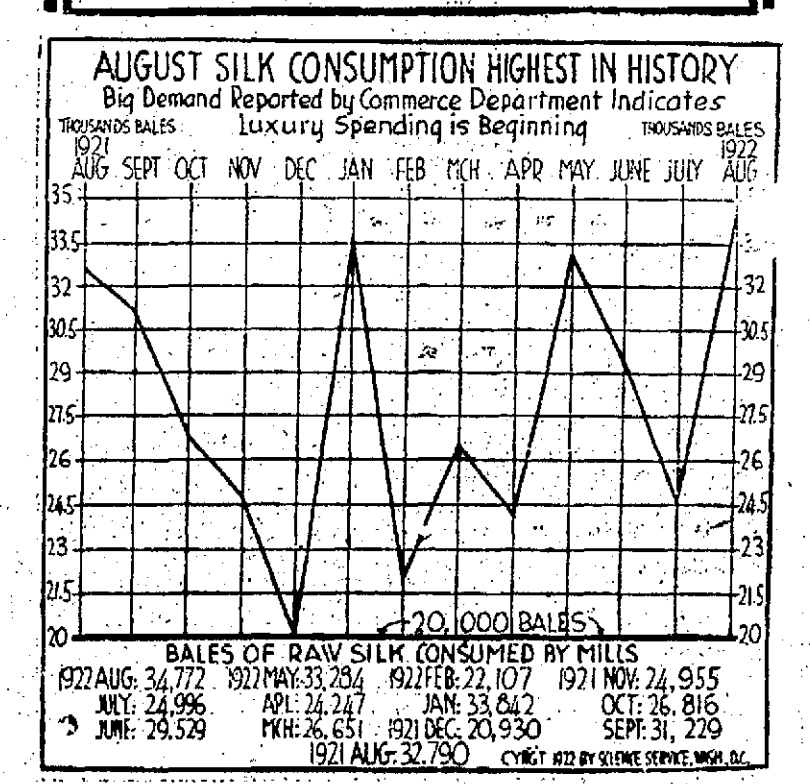

Pittsburgh Sails For Near East.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—The armored cruiser Pittsburgh under the command of Captain John V. Klemm, left the local navy yard at 10 o'clock today for the Near East. An extra detachment of marines has brought the ship's roster up to nearly 1,000 officers and men.

First Auxiliary Meeting.

The first fall meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital will be held at the Nurses' Home on Wednesday, October 4, at 4 o'clock. Dr. Day asks that there be a full attendance of all members of the auxiliary as plans will be made for the winter's work.

PREPARED BY RALPH F. COUCH

SUCH A GOOD SINGER IS ZINK

Sat Under a Tree and Serenaded Himself Until Caused to Retreat by Bees—Like a Lot of Folks, They Had 'No Ear for Music' He Complained.

"Can that racket," shouted Ralph Roodboy, Blink Biven and Raiser Turk in chorus. The object at which it was hurled was Zink Biven, who sat in one corner of the hunting shack that morning cleaning his gun and singing to himself.

"Trouble with you folks," said Zink "is that you don't understand music."

"Trouble with you," shouted the others. "is that you think you can sing, but you only think it."

"Is that so," retorted Zink. "I want you fellows to understand that I have a fine voice."

"Yep," replied Roodboy with a grin "you sing so bass that anyone would be willing to give you a tenor to stop."

"Pennies, not bills," added the others.

"Huh," grunted Zink disgustedly, and picking up his duds he quitted the shack and walked out into the woods. Selecting a fine big tree he reversed himself beneath it and warbled to himself unrestrainedly.

Now truth compels the statement that Zink would have had a fine voice if it had been cultivated, but it certainly needed a lot of cultivation. Although Zink did not know it until later the tree under which he was serenading himself had been selected by a swarm of bees to store their supplies of honey in for the approaching winter.

As Zink's voice rolled out in lusty fashion the bees began to buzz angrily around the tree, and before Zink knew it one had alighted on the tip of his nose and was quickly followed by a number of others.

Zink's melody broke in the middle as he emitted a wild screech, and leaped to his feet to find himself surrounded with a buzzing swarm of angry bees. Every bee was intent on presenting Zink with a card and he, as he felt the hot jabs on his face, dashed madly for the nearby lake and plunged in.

Unable to swim Zink did not dare venture out too far but waded until the water was up to his middle and then squatted down with his head under water. How long he was able to keep his head under water he could not remember, but feeling a sudden jab in his ankle he shot up in the air with both hands clutching something that squirmed wildly.

Fortunately the bees had left the field of battle and Zink found that both eyes had begun to swell so that he could hardly see as he stumbled toward the shack plunged into the door.

"What the dickens," gasped the others as they caught a glimpse of his face as he entered. Then they added "what have you got in your hands?"

Zink glanced at his hands and saw that his back had not entirely forgiven him for clutching firmly in either hand was a handsome pickerel, each tipping the scales at four pounds.

"Just the thing for supper," congratulated Roodboy as he took the fish and prepared to get them ready, while the others prepared some ointment and applied it to Zink's face.

"The trouble with those blame bees," said Zink later when questioned as to how it happened "is that they ain't got any more ear for music than a lot of folks."

ARRANGING EARLY APPEAL OF INJUNCTION DECISION.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 2.—Attorney General Daugherty was expected to confer today with Donald R. Richberg, attorney for the six federated vapers in the recent federal injunction proceedings at Chicago, regarding plans of the shopmen to appeal from Judge Wilkerson's decision.

The conference is understood to have been arranged at the request of Judge Wilkerson to consider Richberg's request that Attorney General Daugherty declare the government's case against the shopmen of general public interest so that the defendants may be given an immediate appeal.

Daugherty and Richberg also will consider requests of Judge Wilkerson that they agree for a final hearing at an early date and that they decide upon methods of introducing evidence with a view to shortening the trial.

IRISH GUERRILLA FIGHTING CONTINUES TO TAKE TOLL

By Telegram to The Freeman. Dublin, Oct. 2.—Two Free State soldiers were killed and several others wounded in an ambush attack by Republican irregulars in county Kerry early today.

Irregulars are reported to have suffered a serious defeat in fighting with Free Staters in county Cork. The action is continuing in the hills.

Soldiers and police are searching for one of four raiders who forced their way into the public house of Patrick Cosgrave, shooting him dead when he tried to eject them. Cosgrave was an uncle of William T. Cosgrave, president of the Dail Eireann and virtual head of the Irish provisional cabinet.

In Police Court. Angelo Scamuzzo of Lexington, N. Y., arrested Sunday by Officer Soper on a charge of speeding 32 miles an hour, had his hearing adjourned to October 4. Charles Becker of Rifton was fined $3 for driving an unregistered car and warned to get his license. Edward Osterhoudt was arrested by Detective Goodsell of the West Shore railroad on a charge of violating the cab ordinance in soliciting passengers while standing more than five feet from his car. His case comes up Tuesday.

Mildred Harris "Broke." By Telegram to The Freeman. Los Angeles, Oct. 2.—Mildred Harris, former wife of Charles Chaplin, film comedian, is planning to file a petition in bankruptcy, according to a letter declared to have been received here from the actress.

Miss Harris wrote that she actually received only about $6,500 as a result of her litigation with Chaplin after paying her attorneys. She said she incurred many debts during a long illness and is being hounded by creditors.

Steamer Ashore. By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Oct. 2.—The American steamship Quaker City is ashore today on the Aberdeenshire coast and it is feared she will be a total wreck. All the passengers and nearly all the crew were taken off. The captain and two members of the crew remained on board to attempt to salvage the vessel.

Mauretania Had Accident. By Telegram to The Freeman. Southampton, England, Oct. 2.—The Cunard liner Mauretania, which arrived here today, crossed the Atlantic with one propeller owing to the vessel being disabled after leaving New York.

TURKS WANT PART OF THRACE NOW

Proposed That French Occupy Thrace Pending Settlement—Turk Withdrawal Eases Situation.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Constantinople, Oct. 2.—The Greek commander in chief in Thrace today notified the Allied high commissioners that Greece is unable to respect the neutral zone in the Thetalia region, north of Constantinople unless attacks upon Turks by roving Turkish bands in that district are stopped.

It is probable that the proposal will be made at the armistice conference on Tuesday that French troops occupy Thrace. One of the chief demands of the Turks is that they be allowed to take over eastern Thrace before peace negotiations begin.

"Mustapha Kemal Pasha might consent to French occupation of Thrace but it would require 10,000 troops," Hamid Bey, envoy of the Turkish Nationalists told International News Service today. He added, however, that the Turks feared that by the time the French had occupied Thrace, the Greek troops would have devastated the region until it resembled a desert.

"Withdrawal of the Turks from strategic positions in the neutral zone and arrangements for the armistice negotiations have eased the situation. Reports were received, however, that Turkish troops were still being massed near Ismid. It was assumed that the Turkish forces in this region were acting under orders issued to them before the armistice was arranged."

The Ankara government is embarrassed by lack of funds, owing to non-collection of taxes.

GREEK MINISTERS BANISHED: VENIZELLOS MEETS CURZON.

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Oct. 2.—The former Greek ministers of state under Constantine's regime, who were arrested by the Greek revolutionary government, have been banished to Aegina Island, said a Central News despatch from Athens today.

Former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos of Greece, who has been commissioned to represent the Greek revolutionary government abroad, had an appointment today to meet Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, to outline the aims and aspirations of the new Athens administration, and to seek British support.

Venizelos, it was learned, has not yet asked for a conference with Premier Lloyd-George.

DAUGHERTY'S OPINION SOON AS TO LIQUOR SMUGGLING.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 2.—Attorney General Daugherty within a few days will render to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon an opinion which will clear up most of the involved questions which have arisen relating to liquor smuggling, it was learned today.

An important part of the opinion will deal with the sale of liquor aboard American shipping board vessels. The attorney general has decided not to wait until the supreme court passes on the question raised.

SEAGER.

Seager, Oct. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Todd are preparing to move in Camp Merwin, formerly the Dick Avery house on the property of S. D. Todd. Mrs. Todd teaches the school in this district.

N. R. Osborn of Margaretville, has purchased of Arnold Graham his property in this place, consisting of one-half acre of land, a bungalow and a garage.

The Methodist minister of Fleischmanns will occupy the pulpit of this church Sunday, October 8th.

George Armstrong and son purchased a small barn of S. G. Moot and are using it to build a garage, which is nearly completed.

Mrs. David Fairbairn went to Kingston on Thursday for an X-ray picture to locate the point of a needle which was broken off in her hand while washing clothes.

Potatoes have rotted badly in this section, and many farmers report only enough for their immediate use.

A Still Alarm.

At 1:45 this afternoon a still alarm called Wiltwyck Hose Company to 53 North Front street, where it was reported smoke was coming from the store at that location, conducted by Joseph Michael. After a search for a half hour no fire could be found but smoke was in evidence. The firemen remained on duty.

In New Location. Miss M. Helen Frost has moved her studio from 184 Fair street to 49 Washington avenue.

The Eternal Feminine. Occasionally some one breaks into print with the complaint that we are getting "too much girl" on our magazine covers. Old stuff! Read this from Wilkie Collins' "Man and Wife," written in 1878: "One popular type of beauty preclaims itself, in its fullest material development, at every shop in which an illustrated periodical is sold. The same fleshy-faced girl, with the same insane smile, and with no other expression whatever, appears under every form of illustration, week after week and month after month, all the year round."—Boston Transcript.

Timely Aid.

An old negro woman came into a Hollywood real estate office the other day and was recognized as the tenant of a small house the value of which had become much enhanced by reason of a new studio building in that neighborhood. "Look here, ma'am, we're going to raise your rent this month," the agent remarked briefly. "I see, an' Ah see glad to hear dat, ma'am," the old woman replied, looking at her head politely. "Mighty glad, 'fo' she, cuse Ah see come in hrah terday ter tell yo' all dat Ah couldn't raise de bit dis month."—Saturday Evening Post.

JEWELRY IS FAD

Craze for Necklaces, Pendants, Bracelets, Earrings.

Buyers Are Enthusiastic Regarding Bright Future They See in Store for Decorations.

The craze for new types of jewelry, particularly for necklaces, pendants, bracelets, brooches, earrings and head-dresses, is steadily increasing, states a fashion correspondent in the New York Tribune. Combinations of pearls, brilliants and platinum, pearls and onyx and the use of semi-precious stones, such as lapis, jade and colored crystal in sets that are especially designed to accompany certain costumes, are having a wide vogue. Manufacturers of imitation jewelry are hastening to copy these new designs brought out by the leading jewelers and launched by the most exclusive dressmakers and their smart clientele.

Several American buyers returning from abroad expressed great enthusiasm regarding the bright future which they consider is in store for novelty jewelry, especially pieces in black and white effects, such as in combination of crystal and onyx and jet and pearls. Crystal, jet and pearls are frequently combined, especially in necklaces. The combination of these three is exceedingly pleasing, the whiteness of the crystal offsetting the blackness of the jet.

There are necklaces formed of long, twisted chains of fine pearls finished with a tassel which has as the last bead an onyx somewhat larger than the last pearl, the whole being held by an onyx slide. Others consist of a tassel of pearls having an onyx top, which is suspended on a long black silk cord. Still others have silver and maracate tops and small pearls set between links of silver for the chain.

Plaque pendants or cabochons, which are suspended from silk cords or narrow velvet ribbons, are made from crystal or from onyx set in steel frames having a small motif of either enamel or stones. These are distinctly reminiscent of the Second Empire period. Other cabochons are of crystal set in a frame of steel and decorated with a motif of maracate.

Those who are fond of colorful effects will take kindly to crystal cabochons in colors and to the dull gold novelties set with colored stones. Frequently the cabochon is of colored galalith with a motif applied to it of fine metal. Again the pendant is of the metal ornamented with colored stones.

TAFFETA FOR YOUNG GIRLS

Taffeta is always charming for the young girls, and the blouse bodice, as shown here, is particularly attractive if becomingly worn upon a dainty figure. The wheels of fluted taffeta are decorative.

COMBINE KID AND GEORGETTE

Vest Blouses Have Crepe Backs and Sleeves; Gilet Sort Made of White Satin.

Among the blouses are models combining kid and georgette crepe, the kid being used for the vest, while the georgette crepe forms the back and sleeves. Charming blouses of the gilet sort are also evolved from white satin, with the vest portion effectively embroidered in metal and black threads.

There is great diversity in the cut of new blouses. Models of the overblouse sort are in greatest demand. The general tendency is toward shorter lines. In spite of their shorter lines the waistline remains low. In many instances the overblouse ends at the waistline at the sides and the back, sloping slightly below it in the front. Other blouses are so short that they barely cover the top of the skirt.

There are models that hang perfectly straight, which may be drawn in at the waist with a string belt, while others are draped across the front after the manner of the draped dress that wraps the figure closely.

Sweaters in Colors. Shetland and thin wool alpines are popular sweater numbers in plain and figured effects, but always in black and white, gray and white, pastel blues or neutral colorings. Sometimes repeated in stockings and hat. Bright colors are conspicuous by their absence.

Do You Want Expenses Slashed and Economy Practiced?

The Republican Party presents a record of 18 months of public economy. During that time the United States has made a more drastic reduction in public expenditures than any other nation has made since the armistice. The outstanding features of this Republican program of public economy are:

Reduction of the public debt in the sum of $1,014,068,844.

Reduction of public expenditures in the sum of $1,743,319,789 during the year ended June 30, 1922, as compared with the previous fiscal year, and over $3,000,000,000 as compared with the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920—a year during which the Democratic party had control of all the spending agencies of the Government.

Reduction of 79,312 public employees between March 4, 1921, and June 30, 1922.

Reduction of $300,000,000 in public appropriations for routine expenses of government during present year as compared with appropriations for last year. This is over $1,000,000,000 less than was appropriated to run the Government during the last year of Democratic administration.

Co-operation between the Republican executive departments and the Republican Congress made possible this slashing of public expenses. If this program of public economy, so well begun, is to be carried on it is necessary to elect a Republican Congress in order to continue the co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of the Government.

A STRANGE MAN.

The late Senator "Tom" Watson was more than a stormy petrel of politics. He was political violence and intemperance personified. He roared and "reared," and was ever ready for physical as well as wordy combat. Lack of restraint marked both his journalism and his politics. In the one he brought monstrous charges against the Catholic priesthood; in the other he seemed to wish to prove that the typical American officer in France was not satisfied to sit down to his breakfast until he had hanged a few privates on flimsy evidence. Senator Watson conveyed the impression that he was ready to rage against practically everything, big and little. He witheringly denounced the Russian relief and the inaccuracy of crop reports; he even fiercely repudiated those "devilish machines," motorcycles. In his later years his violence and consuming suspicion suggested an unbalanced mind; there were symptoms of creeping insanity. It is his belief that both his private and public enemies wished to take his life. Watson's was an original mind handicapped by tempests of passion and the warp of intellectual eccentricity. He has been classed with Vardaman and Cole Blaise, but he revealed a far superior mentality. He wrote historical works of value, the more readable because of a certain freshness and originality of view, including biographies of Jefferson, Andrew Jackson and Napoleon, and "The Story of France." It is stated that the last named has been used in translation in the schools of France itself—an achievement of which few if any other American writers can boast. This remarkable man might have served more effectively outside of politics, wherein he defeated even his own ends by his extravagance.

AN INACCURATE EDITOR.

The editor of the Westminster Gazette, now in this country as a representative of the Sulgrave Institution (a power for good, by the way,) is quoted as saying that in "this time of stress and danger" Washington seems to be interested only in the money owed this country by the Allies, that Americans "do not realize the tragic nature of the developments in Turkey," and that England "stands alone in one of the greatest crises of history." This British editor, if correctly quoted, is inaccurate in two particulars as well as lacking in both good taste and discretion. Americans are not thinking a great deal about the debt owed us by the Allies, and the appointment of a commission to confer about funding the obligations is not a pressing for payment but rather a proposal to arrange for long terms.

As for England's lone stand, it looks, on the contrary, as if she had been in too great haste to get on the band wagon with the other powers. Lloyd George did take what seemed to be the proper stand, but the British press failed to support him and British labor violently opposed "another war." So England backed down and agreed with France and Italy to concede all the insolent demands of Mustafa Kemal, holding out only for the freedom of the Dardanelles in the interests of the world's trade, including Britain's. The Allies (including England) have surrendered to the Turks, agreeing to give them not only Constantinople but much territory in Europe at the expense of Greece, one of the Allies in the World War, and to leave the Christians who are being massacred to their sad fate.

For some equally unknown and senseless reason September 15 is the last day on which the male of the species may wear straw hats, and so in New York on the 16th rough handling of men wearing straw hats extended from the Battery to the Bronx. "The hoodlums attacked every straw hat in sight. Roughs used sticks with nails in them. In the upper West Side a mob of 1,000 was destroying straw hats. Street cars were boarded and straw hats snatched from passengers." Yet this is supposed to be a civilized country.

It is announced that the planet recently discovered by the astronomers of the University of Vienna is to be called Hooveria in grateful recognition of Mr. Hoover's great service in European relief work. Few men have received a more enduring recognition than this. To have one's name attached to a quenchless light in the skies is no small matter.

The girls of Northwestern University have decided to receive male callers only on three days of the week because "too many dates interfere with a college man's athletics." One would expect that too many dates would interfere with the studies of both sexes, but the announcement ignores this unimportant particular.

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Will captive owls live on raw meat alone?

No, if by "meat" you mean only butcher's meat. They must have also some of their natural food, as English sparrows, mice, etc., and these must be fed just as they come in nature, not skinned or prepared. The owl's digestive organs will not keep healthy unless they have a certain amount of their natural work of separating bones, feathers, hides, etc., from edible fleshy parts of their prey, and of casting up the insoluble parts.

2. I have a turtle that seems able to feed under water and out of it. Isn't it unusual?

If your turtle were a purely water-living, it would feed under water only. Perhaps you have a semi-water species, like the so-called semi-box turtle, which lives in ponds most of the time, but also roams around marshy spots, nipping green tips, berries, or insect grubs. Of course these foods are eaten out of water; but tadpoles seized in water are eaten below it.

3. If as you say, fishes do not take care of their young, how do you explain the frequent sight of the horned pout followed by a school of tiny fishes?

When we stated fish did not customarily care for their young, we specifically mentioned cat fishes as an exception. The common horned pout, or bullhead, Ameiurus nebulosus, is a cat fish. Males of fresh water catfishes build the nest and guard it, and are followed by their young until the latter can shift for themselves. In salt water catfishes, the male carries the eggs in his mouth, until hatched, and the young will swim into his mouth for safety when alarmed.

FOR GOOD PRINTING CALL ON US

Made for Mothers

We make an extra grade of oat flakes, and we call them Mother's Oats.

The flakes are large and luscious, made from just the big rich grains.

So children love their flavor.

The oat is the premier child's food.

It supplies 16 elements which growing children need.

It supplies the needed minerals.

It contains the whole-grain vitamins.

As an energy food the oat is rated at 1810 calories per pound.

The oat is also the economical food.

You can serve a whole dish of Mother's Oats for the cost of a bite of meat.

MOTHER'S OATS

The extra grade—large, savory flakes.
Yet the cost is only one-half cent per dish.
Be sure of this premier brand.

FARMERS APPROVE TARIFF LAW

We want to extend the thanks of the producers of this nation to the tariff bloc for their support of the farm schedule in the permanent tariff measure. We endorse the McCumber-Fordney bill as it more nearly gives the farmers of the nation a square deal than any tariff legislation enacted during the present generation and the first tariff measure ever written based upon the principle that the farmer is entitled to the same treatment in tariff legislation as the manufacturer.

We resent the intimation frequently expressed upon the floor of the senate that any person who owns a farm or other property is disqualified from representing this state in the senate. We consider practical and successful producers better qualified to represent their state in congress than men who have no knowledge, experience or intelligent sympathy with the economic problems of the nation.

CURRENT OFFERINGS

AT THE THEATRES

"Up and Going," Tom Mix's latest thriller, will be presented at Keeney's tonight and Tuesday. News, Prizma and a Mermaid comedy are the added features.

Katherine Adams in "A Question of Honor" is the attraction at the Auditorium tonight. Also Fox news and Sunshine Sammy in "The Bashful Lover."

Rodolph Valentino wearing a pigtail! That's what local playgoers will see at the Orpheum Theatre today when "Blood and Sand," Valentino's first Paramount star picture, opens there for a three day run. The role is not Chinese, however, but Spanish. Mr. Valentino plays "Gallardo," a dashing bullfighter, and the small "coleta" or pigtail at the back of the head, with long sideburns, form the distinctive marks of the profession. Vaudeville Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

MICHELE AMORELLA TELLS HOW JOHN CAME IN HOUSE.

Not Acquainted With Men Wanted By Police.

Michele Amorella of No. 4 Fair street stated this morning that John Nambro, the Italian found in his house by the police Thursday evening, was a stranger who had entered the house and said he would like to wait a few minutes as he expected his father to call. Shortly afterward one of Mr. Amorella's children said that there was a policeman at the door and Nambro immediately went out into the hall. The house contains two families and Mr. Amorella says the police asked his mother, who occupied the other apartment, if she had seen John, and she replied she had not. They then asked him and he said the man had gone out in the hall. The police then searched the house and found John.

ENDORSE MRS. ROOSA FOR STATE CLUBWOMEN'S OFFICE

The Twentieth Century Club of Kingston has endorsed the candidacy of Mrs. Hyman Roosa for treasurer of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, which will convene in New York next month. Mrs. Roosa is a former president of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs. She was the first president and one of the founders of the Twentieth Century Club. She also has been endorsed by the Monday and Lowell clubs. Mrs. Roosa will run on a ticket headed by Mrs. John H. Booth of Plattsburg, who is supported by a large number of women in the federation. TWO LAUGH SHOWS FOR OPERA HOUSE

"Mutt and Jeff's Honeymoon," the musical comedy which is to be the next attraction at Kingston Opera House on Thursday afternoon and night, is based on the latest adventures and escapades of this world-renowned twain, in two acts and six scenes. It is said to be interpreted by a large and carefully selected company gathered from the cream of vaudeville and the legitimate. Twenty-five original song hits and other unique ingredients, novelties, features, sketches, innovations and surprises are claimed for it.

Just why "The First Year" ran two years on Broadway and almost became "The Third Year" before undertaking its long tour of the country will soon be learned by local playgoers, as John Golden, producer of "Lightnin'," "Dear Me," "Thank-U," "Turn to the Right," "Three Wise Fools," "Seventh Heaven" and "Spite Corner," will present Frank Craven's charming, laugh-compelling comedy at the Kingston Opera House Saturday afternoon and night.

The play takes its title from the theme, for it is all about the trials and tribulations of the first year of married life. It deals with the average American small town family.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

13 Models Backed by One Principle

The Paige and Jewett group of motor cars consists of thirteen distinct models—all Sixes—and ranging in price from $995 to $3350.

In this great field of choice there are standard open and closed models and very distinctive "specials" in a variety of colors.

So, no matter what your purse or fancy may dictate, Paige is prepared to satisfy it with the right car at the right price. Such is the advantage of a concentrated manufacturing policy.

But whether you buy a Jewett or a Paige—standard or special—it must be a Six. For that is the one principle of engineering recognized in this factory.

As to the wisdom of this policy, there can be no question among enlightened people. Paige builds Sixes exclusively because they are more economical, more comfortable, more dependable and most efficient. Sixes do beat fours.

We invite you to inspect this great line of motor cars.

The thirteen Paige-Jewett Passenger cars follow:

JEWETT—5-Passenger Touring, $995; 3-Passenger Roadster, $995; 5-Passenger Special, $1095; 4-Passenger Coupe, $1445; 5-Passenger Sedan, $1465. PAIGE—7-Passenger Touring, $2195; 4-Passenger Sport, $2245; 7-Passenger Special, $2395; 4-Passenger Special, $2445; 3-Passenger Dayton Roadster, $2495; 5-Passenger Coupe, $3100; 7-Passenger Sedan, $3155; Limousine, $3350.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN SENDS HER PORTRAIT TO BIGELOW

On Sunday, October 1, arrived at the Bigelow Homestead, Malden-on-Hudson, a member of the Japanese Embassy staff direct from Washington. In his hands he bore a portrait of Her Imperial Majesty, the Empress of Japan, and this he formally presented to Poultnery Bigelow on behalf of the Tokio Government. This is the first time that the Empress of Japan has thus honored a non-official foreigner. After the presentation, the Imperial messenger took the first train back to Washington.

Refreshed by a two-day rest in Poughkeepsie, Edward Payson Weston, 83 years old, world's champion long distance walker, who arrived there Friday three days ahead of schedule in his hike from Buffalo to New York, resumed his trip today. Poughkeepsie admirers of the veteran walker gave him a dinner there Saturday night. He expects to reach Garrison by tonight and arrive in New York Saturday.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

CASSOWARY BIRD WAYS

"Yes," said the Cassowary, "it is true that I am a curious looking bird. In fact you might not even call me a bird when you first looked at me for I'm walking about the ground and I'm not flying above the ground."

"But I am a bird just as the Ostrich family and others are birds, though they are to be seen on the ground, and not flying about in the air."

"I have been here in the zoo quite a while and I get along very well."

"I ate some sand just now, which surprised one of the visitors. But I often eat sand. In fact, I enjoy a certain amount of sand in my food. Just as I have heard some people say that they like to have their food seasoned with salt so does the cassowary like to eat a certain amount of sand."

Just what that amount is I can't tell you. I never measured the amount of sand I ate. But, then, I don't suppose people measure the amount of salt they eat, so that is fair enough."

"My home used to be in an island known as the Cassowary Island. An excellent name it was for the island, too."

"That island is one of the islands of New Britain, east of New Guinea. I couldn't point that out to you on the map, but that is where they say I came from, so I suppose they know."

"Anyway, there were lots of cassowaries in the home land, and there is only one other here. That is a young cassowary."

"You'll see him down yonder. He is only eighteen months old. He wasn't born here, but was brought here as a young cassowary child."

"Cassowaries aren't born in the zoo. It is enough of an honor to a zoo that they will be brought here and will lend interest to the zoo by their presence."

"A bit concealed, eh? Well, now and again I feel a little superior and a little like showing that I'm not going to be taken advantage of—I'm not."

"My home was in a great, thick jungle. Doesn't that sound interesting? There we lived in the wonderful underbrush."

"You will notice that I have a horny, hard kind of a helmet upon my head?"

"It protects our heads from injury or harm, as we go through the underbrush."

"Our helmets never grow out of fashion. Were not like people in that way who're always changing hats with the styles."

"And people's hats look shabby after a bit or faded by the sun. But not our helmets. Oh, no, we have helmets worth having."

"But, of course, the great advantage about them is that they're of so much protection to us."

"We like lettuce and bread and fruit and bananas in the way of food."

"We do not care for meat."

"Now, sometimes Neighbor Curassow will eat a little meat. But we never will."

"Neighbor Curassow is much smaller than I am. Do you like his red beak?"

"Of course one can't expect so much of a smaller creature, and so, you see, he hasn't the sense to keep to a little fruit and vegetable diet as I do."

"But, then, people eat meat, don't they? Well, I must be careful what I say, then, about meat eating."

"The young curassow, over there, a real little zoo curassow, is wilder than those who were brought here from their own curassow home."

"The ones who were brought here are really quite tame."

"Still, the little wild one is whistling now. Do you hear him? A nice whistle he has, hasn't he?"

"But I mustn't tell you any more about myself and neighbors, for you might forget if I told you too much."

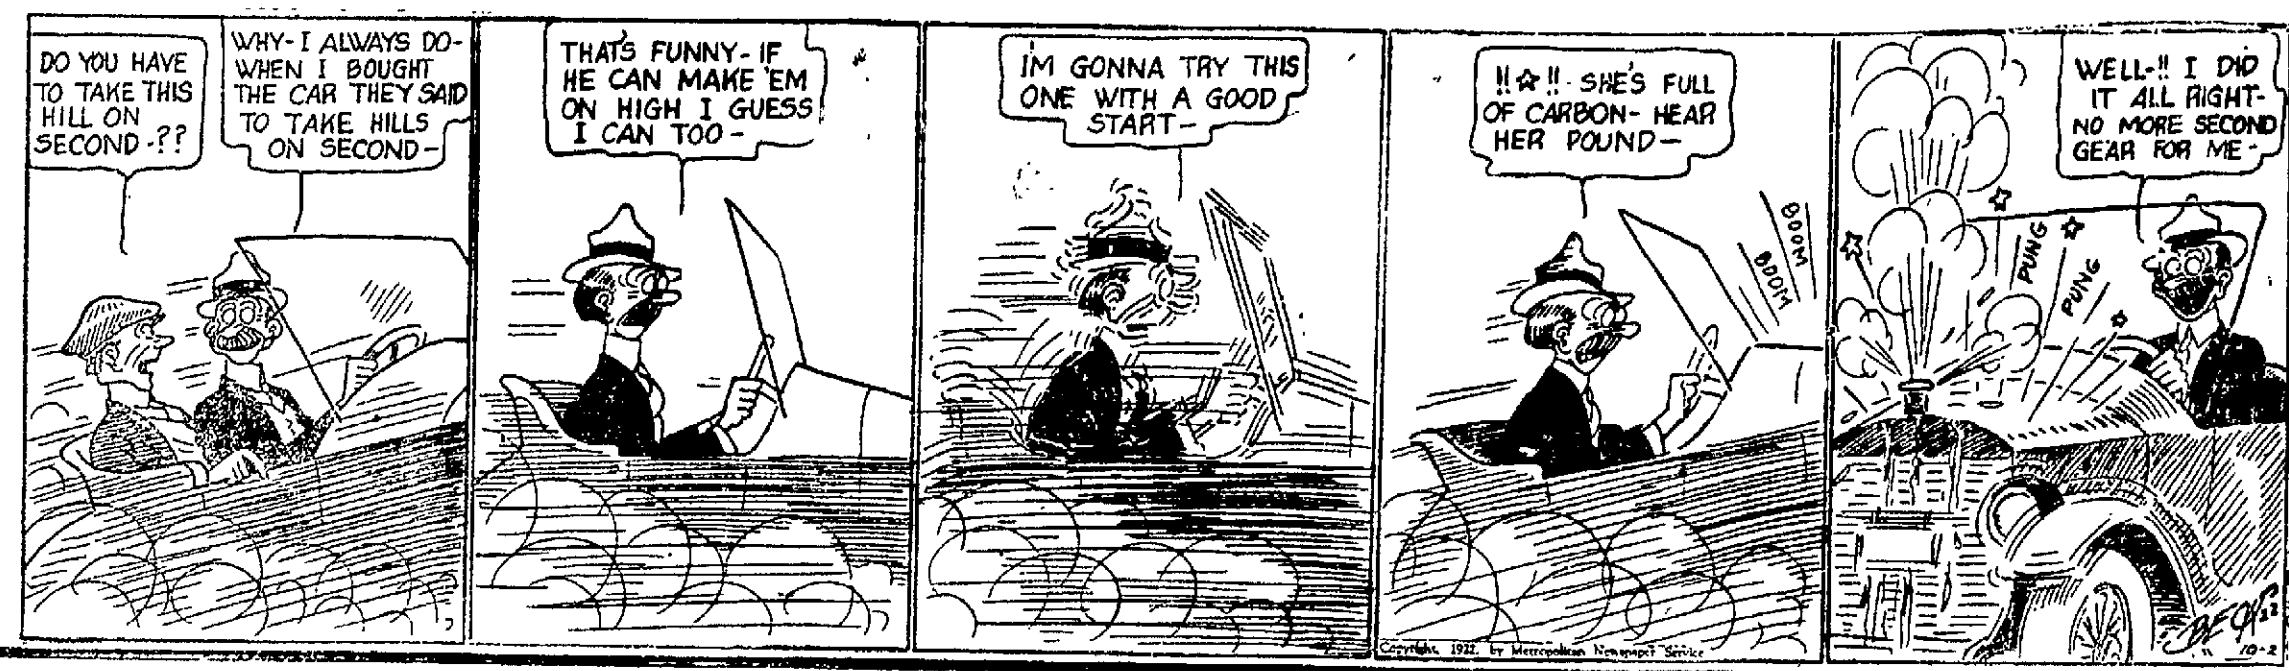

"Come again and call for me, and my keeper will translate my story into your language with an account of what I do and what I eat and how my disposition has been of late, and all of such interesting matters."

"Good-by. The cassowary politely says good-by and is sorry you won't join him in a little afternoon meal of sand!"

WHAT TO EAT

When the members of the family have no appetite for breakfast, try this: Steam bananas cut in halves until well heated through. Place on narrow strips of toast cut to fit banana, butter the toast well, place the bananas and pour over a teaspoonful of lemon juice or a little lemon sauce.

Layer Sandwiches.—Cut slices from graham or whole wheat bread, two days old. Trim off the crust and save for the many dishes which will use them acceptably. Spread the end of the loaf with softened butter, then cut in water-like slices. Have ready some chopped and seasoned ham with a few chopped nuts. On the slice of buttered bread put a layer of one filling and a layer on the white bread, alternating with the white and brown until half a dozen slices are placed together. Press to make firm and cut in slices like layer cake. Be sure that the two fillings used go well together.

Fish Dinner.—Take two pounds of haddock, cod or halibut tie in a cheese-cloth and boil until tender in water to which a tablespoonful of salt has been added. Cook a cupful of rice in boiling salted water until tender. Chop a quart of cooked spinach, season with butter and arrange with chopped beets in small mounds around the fish. The beets may be left whole, if preferred. Sprinkle a little parsley over the dish and serve.

Beet Salad.—Cut in halves small, round, cooked beets, scoop out the centers and fill with chopped celery and nuts mixed with mayonnaise. Place on lettuce and top each with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

Walnut Maple Cream.—Heat one and three-fourths cupfuls of milk with one cupful of maple syrup in a double boiler. To one-fourth of a cupful of milk add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt; when well blended, add to the hot milk. Cook for 25 minutes, then pour very slowly over the well-beaten eggs and continue cooking a few moments. Pour into a serving dish and sprinkle with chopped walnuts and serve with whipped cream.

DR. SCUDDER SPEAKS WEDN'DAY

Dr. Ida Scudder will be the speaker at the big union Missionary meeting to be held at the Fair Street Reformed Church on the evening of Wednesday, October 11th. A brief sketch of Dr. Scudder's life follows.

Dr. Ida Scudder is the granddaughter of Dr. John Scudder, that successful young New York city physician who went to India in 1819 in response to a call for "some one who could combine the qualities of missionary and physician." His name, carried on by his descendants as Christian missionaries, will stand in perpetuity as the founder of medical missions. Ida Scudder, carrying on her education in Northfield Seminary distinctly decided that she would not be a missionary, but would lead her own life, in spite of her ancestry.

While still of this mind she went to India to visit her father and mother stationed at the Arcot Mission, expecting soon to return to the United States. One day while her father was absent on a tour a Hindu gentleman of high rank came to the house and begged her to come to his young wife who was in urgent need of surgical aid. Miss Ida explained that she was not a physician as he seemed to think, but said that just as soon as her father returned she would send him. Then the man made it very clear that since his wife was of high caste she could not be treated by a man, and he went away sorely distressed. Later in the same day a low-caste man came to the house and begged the young woman in the name of all the gods to come to his poor house and save his wife who was in mortal need. Again she had to refuse.

That night from the aristocratic Brahmin quarter at one side of the town and from the out-caste hut at the other side of the town came the wailing for the dead. The bodies of two young wives and two new-born babies were carried to the burying ground.

That night Ida Scudder knew what was before her. She returned to America, entered Cornell Medical School, and twenty-five years ago began her life-work in the Women's Hospital in Yellow, built largely from funds which she herself had raised in the United States. The Mary Taber School Hospital under the Dutch Reformed Church Board, was opened for patients in 1902 in charge of Dr. Louisa A. Hart, and Dr. Ida Scudder who remains at its head. The nurses are active Christian girls.

So phenomenally successful was this hospital—which also affords the training school nurses and gives experiences to those studying to be physicians—that the women co-operating with other Christian medical missionary women started still another medical school in South India, Dr. Scudder figuring largely in inaugurating the same.

Perhaps no living woman today knows the need of native women physicians and nurses in the Orient as does Dr. Ida Scudder. For that reason she is giving unstintingly of her services as a speaker all through this country, at just such big union meetings as will be held in Kingston on the evening of October 11th in the interest of the Women's Union Christian Colleges of the Orient.

So widely is Dr. Ida Scudder known that it is expected that not only will this union meeting of all the Protestant Churches of Kingston call out Kingstonians but that there will be many people from the county in attendance.

Capt. Charles M. Tozer

Captain Charles M. Tozer is in command of two divisions of United States destroyers, which are steaming at full speed toward Constantinople to join Admiral Mark Bristol's fleet for any work it may be called upon to perform.

A Liberal Education.

That man, I think, has had a liberal education who has been so trained in youth that his body is the ready servant of his will, and does with ease and pleasure all the work that, as a mechanic, it is capable of; whose intellect is a clear, cold, logic engine, with all its parts of equal strength and smooth working order; ready, like a steam engine to be turned to any kind of work, and spun the gears as well as forge the anchors of the mind, whose mind is stored with knowledge of the great fundamental truths of nature and of the laws of her operations, one who is stunted, astetic, is full of life and fire, but whose passions are trained to come to heel by a vigorous will, the servant of a tender conscience; who has learned to love all beauty, whether of nature or of art, to hate all violence, and to respect others as himself.—T. H. Huxley

Food Refuse Clue to Cavemen.

If cavemen had not been so accommodating as to leave their remains in caves, we should be without clues regarding the human inhabitants of Europe thousands of years ago. Marett, the anthropologist, tells of a cave in Jersey, near the Bay of St. Brelade, where scientists dug down through some 20 feet of clay and rock rubbish, probably carried there in the course of the last Ice Age that mantled Europe, and discovered a prehistoric hearth with the large stones that had propped up the fire, and even some of the ashes. Bones were found in a heap of food-refuse, which, when examined, proved to be the remains of the woolly rhinoceros, the reindeer, two kinds of horses, of a wild ox and of a deer. Thirteen human teeth were found in the food-heap. The diners had also left their knives—flint chipped on one side.

The Uncertain Future.

It isn't the Promised Land, but the promised land that is important to the young man who is about to interview the girl's father.

WENDS OF SLAVONIC ORIGIN

Variety of Tribes Mingle to Form What Was at One Time a Powerful People.

The Wends are a section of the Slavonic race, dwelling in that part of Germany known as Lusatia, partly in Prussia and partly in the former kingdom of Saxony. In the Sixth century the Wends were a powerful people, extending along the Baltic from the Elbe to the Vistula and south to the frontiers of Bohemia. They comprised a variety of tribes. To the Wends at the outbreak of the war Prussia was merely a military expression. They have always remained closely united among themselves, preserving the old customs and considering the mingling of races by marriage as opposed to the laws of origin. The distinctions of caste among them are very marked and scrupulously respected. They call themselves Sorbs, and are known in history as Poles. Their language, of which there are two most marked dialects, is Saxon and Prussian, with sections that speak a mixed form of both languages, which is described as being between Polish and Czech (Bohemian) and was reduced to a written language in the sixteenth century. The people of Wendish speech numbered 144,000 in the '80's, were reduced to 110,000 in 1900, and are considerably less today.

BOILING MAY BE OVERDONE

Too Much Cooking Said to Be Fatal to Vitamins, Which Are Necessary to Life.

Ever since the mysterious little vitamins have claimed the attention of science, new theories have been expounded from time to time.

Now comes the claim that vitamins are bits of sunshine. Because of the important part cooking plays in maintaining or destroying these precious vitality givers, it is well to learn what the new theory asserts regarding it.

Vegetables grown above ground, according to this theory, are richer in vitamins than those not having the direct rays of the sun, otherwise known as root vegetables.

It is declared that over-boiling kills the stimulating action of the vitamins. The housewife who would supply her daily menu with these vitality-giving items should look well to the fresh fruits and vegetables in the market at this time of year.

It is claimed that because the vitamins are actual rays of sunshine, artificial heat tends to destroy their natural power. Therefore fruit and vegetables that may be eaten raw are more beneficial than when boiled.

Oldest Engines in England.

Two engines which are still pumping away after a hundred years are to be seen in the Brookmill Road pumping station of the London water board. They were built one hundred and one hundred and ten years ago respectively. Every day since they were installed they have raised on an average 1,750,000 gallons of water, and the total amount they have pumped must be at least sixty thousand million gallons. These engines, which are probably the oldest working machines of their kind in the country, are of fifty horse-power, and each works two pumps. They are of the type that was once used in the Cornish mines, and except for a few modern improvements which have been added during recent years, they are exactly as they were a century ago.

Soon they are to be replaced by new engines, not because they are not capable of performing their work, but because modern engines work more cheaply.

Hoated Argument.

It was the girl's busy day and everything seemed topsy-turvy, nothing was on time, and she was rushing around the office at a rate that she thought could not be rivaled; but Sambo, the office boy, came in with the speed of a cyclone and she felt outdone. Now, Sambo's movements at all times are leisurely and deliberate, and no amount of threats or coaxing could get Sambo to exert himself beyond the speed of a slow movement camera subject. Therefore this unusual display of locomotion from Sambo was most surprising. The girl stopped to get an explanation. Sambo rolled his eyes, took a deep breath and elucidated: "The boss is on a tear and he sure is mad; he's bawled out everybody on the place and he's having some argument now. That there argument was gettin' so hot that I knowed the ole automatic fire sprinkler would begin to work in another minute, so I just run before it happened."—Exchange.

"Rolling Court" in Florida.

Florida has a "rolling court," operating on the Atlantic boulevard near Jacksonville. Justices of the peace and their bailiffs patrol the highway in passenger automobiles, accompanied by dozens of deputies on motorcycles, ready to pounce upon any driver who endangers traffic. Upon making an arrest, the deputy and his prisoner proceed until met by one of the "rolling courts."

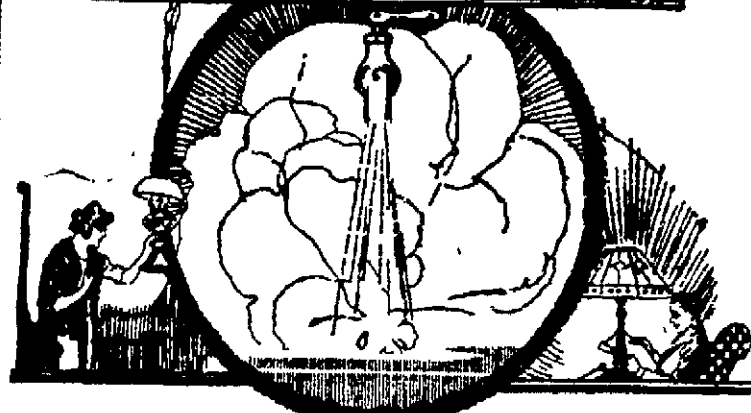

Only British Instruments.

For a period of two years, licenses for broadcasting granted to Great Britain should contain the provision that only British instruments should be used. This is the recommendation of the postmaster general, and, according to the London Evening Times, has been approved by the cabinet.

Can Fish Hear?

Fish have no ears, but there is no doubt that they can detect sounds. It is probable that they feel the vibrations which sounds set up in the water, by means of a sensitive nerve that runs down each side of their bodies.

The Modern Way

Yesterday and Today

Not so many years ago, it was the custom to light the home with oil lamps.

Today, city homes enjoy the flood of brilliant light given by the Weisbach gas mantle.

Not so long ago, the hot water supply of a home was produced by the kettleful.

Today the modern household has hot water on tap at any hot water faucet—any time, night or day.

The new gas water heaters are marvels of efficiency and convenience. You owe it to yourself to have a water heater installed in your kitchen. Take advantage of the special inducements we are offering this week. Get your gas water heater now.

What Charm is to a Woman

—Salt is to Bread

You can't define charm, but you don't care for a man or woman who has none.

And you wouldn't like Bread without Salt!

The delicate indefinable flavor of Bread is the result of just the proper amount of this very necessary ingredient.

Without Salt, that delicious appetizing odor of fresh Bread would not be present to tempt you with its fragrance.

And without appetite-appeal, you would not be able to eat Bread three times a day and between meals as you do.

MRS. SALZMANN'S MOTHER'S BREAD contains just that right proportion of Salt that blends all the ingredients into a perfect loaf with a flavor so rich and tempting it is impossible to get enough of Bread—Your Best Food.

And while you are eating it, slice after slice, you are daily gaining in Health and Economy.

How to Make Cotton Sheets and Pillow Cases Look and Feel Like Linen

To make even the most ordinary cotton goods, such as sheets, pillow cases, table cloths and napkins, look and feel like expensive linen, with a soft, cool and pliable finish, use half cupful of Linit to 14 cupfuls of water.

Not only does Linit give cotton goods a fashionable linen finish, but you will notice the entire absence of the disagreeable lint usually associated with cotton goods.

Linit is the new scientific starch discovery which penetrates the center of every thread in the fabric, reinforces the strength of the material, prolongs its life, helps prevent wear, and adds new lustre to old fabrics.

Use Linit for every kind of material, whether lawn, linen, cotton, gingham, lace or curtains.

Ask your grocer for Linit. He has it.

MIDDLETOWN, 7; KINGSTON, 0

High School Eleven, Although Beaten, Shows Up Well for First Game—Weak on Offense.

Saturday the varsity football team of Kingston High School traveled to Middletown only to meet defeat 7 to 0 at the hands of the Asylum City team. There were many fumbles in the game by both sides. Middletown made several first downs, while Kingston continually lost the ball on downs. The Kingston team played very well in the defense, but made a poor showing on the offense, there being practically no interference for the man carrying the ball. Another remarkable feature of the game was the fact that only one forward pass was completed during the entire play, that one being made by Kingston. All of Middletown's passes were either blocked or intercepted by Kingston men. Vogt getting most of the game in the backfield, while Captain Davis showed up well on the defensive, getting a great many tackles. Vogt did some good punting that helped Kingston hold the Middletown team to their single touchdown. Iedie was the big man on the Middletown team, making the most gains and scoring the single touchdown of the game. As far as weight is concerned, the two teams were well matched. While Kingston had six of last year's players on the team, all but one of Middletown's men were on last year's squad. The local team was beaten, but for the first game of the season they played as well as, if not better than, any of Kingston's teams the last few years. With some good hard work they should be in trim to carry off the honors next Saturday, and to take down somewhat the high hopes of Poughkeepsie a week from next Saturday.

In the first half, Schmidt kicked off to Vogt, who advanced the ball ten yards. In their fourth play, Kingston advanced the ball another nine yards, Colvin making three and Faulk six, Kingston losing the ball on downs. Middletown was held so that they were forced to punt, gaining twenty yards on the kick. Kingston gained three yards when Faulk went through the line for the amount, but was again forced to punt, gaining ten yards. Kingston held Middletown for a down, after which Vogt gained fifteen yards on a forward pass. Again forced to kick, Kingston gained another thirty yards, then lost the ball on a fumble on Kingston's thirty-five yard line. But Kingston was not to hold the ball long, for Middletown regained the ball when another fumble occurred. Middletown advanced the ball to the twenty yard line on a forward pass, then made five yards more on a line plunge, but lost the ball on a penalty. After making but three yards, Kingston punted again. Middletown made her first down, but lost the ball when Vogt intercepted another pass, and advanced the ball for Kingston fifteen yards. Vogt immediately punted for a forty yard gain. Middletown made a six yard gain, and then the whistle blew for the end of the first half.

Vogt opened the second half by kicking the ball to Middletown's twenty yard line, but it was brought back to the thirty by a Middletown player before he was downed. Middletown delivered the ball to Kingston when she punted thirty-five yards, but Kingston again lost the ball by the interception of a forward pass. Kingston retaliated by intercepting one of Middletown's passes. Then came the beginning of Kingston's defeat. The Maroon and White players failed to make their ten yards in three downs and Vogt was called back to kick. The pass from the center to the backfield fell short, striking the ground. Davis fell on the ball, and it was given to Middletown. Middletown made two successive gains of five yards, then by a series of line plunges, succeeded in making a touchdown. Iedie carrying the ball over. Middletown scored the extra point by a kick from Bergamo. Bergamo making the kick. Vogt received the ball and ran it ten yards. Vogt punted twenty-five yards. The rest of the half was a see-saw affair, with one side holding the edge at one moment, and the other another time.

One play that all will long remember is Davis's tackling a Middletown man who had gained thirty-five yards on a long end run. He was headed for a touchdown and was within twenty yards of the goal. Davis was the only man between the goal and him. As he ran past Davis, it seemed that the Kingston player had missed him, but just as he got past Davis turned and flung his full weight on him. The player went for a beautiful spill, the ball flew out of his hands as he hit the ground and was recovered by a Kingston man, preventing a six and possibly a seven point play against Kingston.

The line-ups were as follows:
Middletown
Mcade L. E. H. Anderson
Captain Seely L. T. McLane
Walker L. G. Messenger
Schmidt R. C. Sowers
Swendells C. G. F. Davenport
Baker R. T. F. Anderson
Marx R. E. Carroll
Knight Q. B. Vogt
Cassler L. H. B. Faulk
Bergamo R. H. B. Colvin
Iedie F. B. Captain Davis

Kill Turkey Buzzard.
The green fly and the turkey buzzard are two of mankind's worst enemies, because they help spread in furtile paralysis germs and other malignant forms of disease. The buzzard was in large measure responsible for the spread of rinderpest in South Africa, cholera in India and the epidemic that killed off the water buffalo in the Philippines. The green fly, and the turkey buzzard should be killed on sight.—Thrill Magazine.

K. H. S. SECONDS IN SCORELESS TIE

Both Teams Show Weakness in Passing and There Is Much Fumbling and Roughness at Athletic Field.

While the Varsity was meeting defeat at the hands of the Middletown Varsity, our seconds were holding the Middletown seconds to a scoreless tie. Although outweighed, the Kingston "kids" (for so they appeared against the Middletown squad) played real football; and while they did not make a single point, they virtually won the game, for they had the edge on Middletown in about every quarter. All Kingston's players showed up well, F. Burgevin, Talbot, Bailey and Cranston causing the most favorable comment. When it came to punting, E. Burgevin showed that his abilities were not confined to line playing. Most of his punts going at least thirty yards, Kingston showed serious weakness in the same way as our Varsity, namely in forward passing. Kingston completed but one forward pass. In several instances the right side of Kingston's line weakened, Middletown taking advantage of the weakness and making several good gains, but the Maroon jerseyed players again drew together and held the offensive team.

In the first quarter, neither side did much. Kingston kicked off to Middletown, who started her scrimmage on her thirty yard line. In this period both sides fumbled considerably. Kingston was penalized fifteen yards for unnecessary roughness. In the second quarter Middletown was penalized for roughness. Kingston intercepted a forward pass, but was forced to kick, but made no gain. Neither made any gains to amount to anything. This half ended with Middletown in possession of the ball on Kingston's thirty-five yard line.

In the third quarter Middletown opened up a strong offense, making several good gains through Kingston's line. Then they tried a fake formation, a forward pass from kick formation; but the Maroon fellows were wise to it, having been up against the first team when many such a play was tried. Middletown made no gain. Then Kingston was penalized again for unnecessary roughness. Kingston held Middletown and the latter was forced to kick. Kingston was held and forced to kick, but the ball was recovered when the catcher fumbled. The ball was now on Middletown's twenty yard line. Kingston was penalized fifteen yards for the use of hands on the offensive. The one forward pass completed then took place. After several plays a substitute coming in for Kingston communicated with another player for which the Maroon team was penalized another fifteen yards. Kingston kicked. Middletown responded with another punt. Middletown was penalized five yards for off side. Kingston lost the ball to Middletown on about the latter's ten yard line. Middletown immediately kicked out of danger and the game ended with the ball on Middletown's thirty yard line and in possession of Kingston.

Referee: Hall, (Springfield); umpire, Miller, (Y. M. C. A.); head line-man, McAndrew, (New Paltz Normal); time of quarters, 12 minutes, first half, 10 minutes, second half.

Substitutions: (Middletown) Van Leuvan for Goff; Le Van for Buck; Colombo for McQueen. (Kingston) Perlman for Morse; Riskey for Vogel; Simmons for F. Burgevin.

GIANTS ARE NOW EVEN MONEY BET

By Davis J. Walsh.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 2.—How good do the Giant pitchers have to be to stop a team that, under the whip, scores exactly five times and gets a matter of 25 hits in its last five games? The answer is just a little bit better than downright bad.

The Yankees, with their accustomed lack of good taste, have selected the few days preceding the World Series to fall headlong into their worst batting slump of the year. In the five games in question, they failed to score at all against Uhl and Jack Quinn, three times in one inning against Ferguson and not at all during the remainder of the game against Pennock, and once against Rip Collins in Boston and Warmouth, a recruit, in Washington yesterday.

Uhl, Collins and the rest of them, baying Warmouth, are recognized as first-class pitchers when right, but the odds against them all being right at one and the same time, Ananie hitting must have had something to do with it.

Almost simultaneously, McGraw has begun to get commendable pitching from Nehf, Scott and McQuillan. He has worked them a few innings here and there and they have done right well. Nothing exceptional, of course, because three innings make a ball game no more than a swallow makes a highball.

The combination of fair pitching by Yankees, has prompted any speculative gentleman who once chanced 7 to 5 on the Yankees, to run to cover. He is now being made around the lobby of the Commodore and at Uhl's at 6 to 5, and before game time Wednesday, even money very possibly will be the price of expressing one's open judgment, openly arrived at.

It is the only sensible price, if any price is sensible. As a matter of fact, betting on a World Series should be listed with blasting, sword swallowing, wire beating and the like as a precarious occupation.

The fact that McGraw has been juggling Nehf, Scott and McQuillan in recent games, is taken to mean that Jess Barnes, the young man who curd-baited the Yanks into hysterics in two games of the series last year, will not be very prominent in the impending games. It is likely that McGraw has decided to shut out all his own on the three men in question and use Barnes for relief pitching, an art at which the latter uncovered no little proficiency in 1921.

It is more than obvious that the worthy Mr. Huggins will counter with Bush, Shawkey and Hoyt. He has no alternative what with Mays being consistently ineffective, or nubby, as you wish, and Jones fielding five runs to the Senators in the first inning yesterday. That being the way, just about eliminated Samuel from participation in the series. It was his big chance and he heaved it. Mays will do the relief pitching, if there is any relieving to be done.

The top three are better than any trio McGraw can muster but they are not altogether foolproof. Shawkey, although pitching like hell, has been beaten his last two times out. Bush also lost his last start and had to go to the rescue of Hoyt in the final inning Saturday.

The pitch has hasn't flopped, however. It is the hitting. It is the venerable Jack Quinn, the wild-eyed Collins and a kid pitcher can do it, there is hope yet for the Giant staff, foolish looking though it may be.

WORLD'S SUGAR OUTPUT DROPS 500,000 TONS

Yield for 1923 Estimated at 17,000,000 Tons Against 17,490,000 in 1922.

Sugar production for the year 1923 will be nearly 500,000 tons less than for 1922, it was estimated by the Commerce Department in a survey of the world situation.

World production for 1923 was put at 17,000,000 tons, compared with 17,490,000 tons in 1922, when the consumption was estimated at 18,300,000 tons and the carry-over into 1923 was put at 830,000 tons, compared with the carry-over of 1,700,000 tons from 1921 into 1922.

The abnormal surplus of Cuban sugar existing last January, the department declared, has apparently been absorbed, and in addition the normal amount of the new Cuban crop has been taken. Revised estimates of world production for 1922, the department added, are 1,600,000 tons over the earlier estimates, owing largely to the unexpected size of the Cuban crop.

"But this year's consumption," the department stated, "also has exceeded all predictions, both in the United States and in Europe, and even with the revised crop figures for 1921-22 the carry-over for 1922 will be not far from normal. The gradual rise in c and i prices of Cuban raws to the present level, about double the low figure of 1.75 cents at the end of 1921, has no doubt been due to replenishing of invisible supplies and increased consumption, and in particular to European demand."

Ring Hurling for Tannersville Defeats Colonials With Schryver on the Mound—Locals Are Poor at Bat, but Field Excellent.

Three hits was the extent of the Colonials' batting activities Sunday afternoon at the Fair Grounds. The reason therefore was none other than the wonderful pitching of Jimmy Ring, the Philadelphia National League club's hurler. Jimmy was on the hill for Tannersville in the deciding game of their series with Captain Harry E. Schirick's Kingston Colonials. The result: Tannersville, 2, Colonials, 0.

A wild sort of a ball game it was! Right from the beginning, judging from the "loaded" aspect of both teams, it was evident that something was going to be done. The Colonials had Harry Schryver, the Brooklyn Dodgers' youngster who has been the sensation of National League pitchers this season, as their moundman. Harry pitched a very commendable game but not quite as good as King's Ring also had thirteen strikeouts in his favor which were no small factor in deciding the issue in direction of the Mountaineers.

The biggest crowd of the year was out to see the fireworks. It seemed that Tannersville had declared a public holiday and men, women and children were out in force and they had plenty of chances to come into full voice. Chuck Ward, the Dodgers' infielder, was in the short stop position for the Greene county aggregation.

Ring was too much for the Colonials. Every member of the Schirick clan, with the single exception of Tillie Tallafiero, the Peekskill A. A. of Brooklyn crack, fell a victim on strikes. Vogt, who played such a wonderful game the day before and who had little or no difficulty with Cracker's slants, was clay in Ring's experienced hands.

It was undoubtedly the best exhibition of pitching Kingston fans have seen this season. Schryver pitched well. He was in several tight holes early in the game but Jack Robins' fine throwing to second base and the alertness of the Colonial infield played havoc with impromptu Tannersville rallies.

The Colonials had little or no chance to score. Once in the seventh inning with men on second and third and two out, Robins slashed a line drive towards third base but Struck came through with a stunt catch and grabbed the pellet just as it was in the ascendo.

Struck walked to start the game and moved to third on a brace of infield outs but Scott grounded easily to Schryver for the third out. For three innings the Kingstons went out in order. Tannersville had men on in both the second and third but Jack Robins threw two runners out at second and cut off the opportunities to count.

Ward led off with a hit in the Tannersville fourth, a sacrifice moved him to second and an infield out to third. Alexander was out on a hard smash to Coyle.

Shay got the first Colonial hit in the fourth when he bounced a blow off Struck's glove. He was forced at second on Tallafiero's wallop to Alexander. Tallafiero was caught between the bags by Ring, Ward and Alexander.

The seventh saw the first score marked up. Scott hit sharply past Tallafiero and moved to second on Porter's hit to center. Alexander moved the runners ahead with a sacrifice. Herbst was walked intentionally. McDonald shot a drive past Coyle and Scott rapped home. Herbst was caught, coming home on a fast relay from Vogt to Coyle to Deegan.

The Colonials had their big chance in the seventh. With one down Deegan hit safely to center. Vogt fanned but Terpenning was safe when Ward pulled Alexander off the bag after holding Charles's ground-rod to deep short. Terpenning moved to second without being molested. Robins' aforementioned rap was gathered in by Struck.

The visitors added another marker to their total in the ninth on hits by Porter and Herbst and a sacrifice by Alexander.

Right up until the last man was out, the Colonials were in there fighting. With two away in the ninth Deegan walloped a ground-rod two-bagger to right. Vogt was late on Porter's miscue but Deegan was nabbed at the plate on the same play, ending the contest.

There wasn't anything fluky about the way the local cohorts hammered Holden Saturday. Practically every one of the ten drives was of the whistling variety, and every one of the Colonials had a share in the hitting except Bobby Coyle. Vogt, a rookie from the Brooklyn National League team who took Rice's place in the fourth, carved out two hits in three times up, and Jack Robins did the same trick.

Four runs for the Colonials in the eighth gave the game a rather one-sided aspect. The score at the end of that frame being 9 to 1. But the Kingston team let up a bit in the ninth and three hits off Culloton, mixed with a couple of errors on easy chances by Bill Shay, gave the Dutchess county team four runs. Bud settled down with one man out and retired the next two men in order.

The Red Hook contingent put up quite a fight for the game. They wanted the honor of being the only team to take three straight from the Colonials, and in the early innings they waxed loud and furious in several arguments with Umpire Seixas. They lost a bit of their fighting spirit, however, as the Kingstons proceeded to find Holden's offering, and at the end they were pretty well tamed.

The Colonials wasted no time in getting started. After Shay had fanned out to start the game Bill Schwab bounced a hit off Holden's glove and went to second when Curtis threw past Lowthers. Matty Deegan sent Short, the Tannersvillian, and Rubie DeGroff chasing after the ball, Schwab scoring and Matty pulling up at second.

Short put Red Hook back in the game in the third, when he doubled to right to start the inning. Ferris followed with a sacrifice, sending Short to third, and Holden pushed a single to center on which Short scored. The inning ended when Curtis was called out on strikes and Robins whipped the ball down to Coyle, getting Holden off the bag. McCue, who played a stellar role for the Dutchess county men at third, slipped out on Terpenning's grounder to start the fourth and Charlie made first. Robins cracked a single to left. Terpenning going to second. Holden threw the ball in front of the plate with Glaser up and it rolled into the Colonial dugout. Terpenning scoring and Robins going to third. After Vogt had gone out on strikes Culloton and Robins worked the "squeeze" to perfection. Jack scoring.

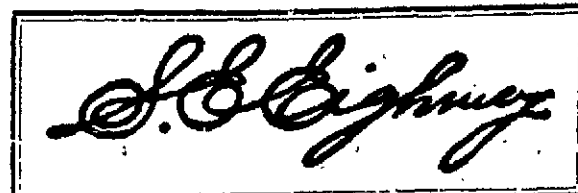

Holden yielded two more runs in the sixth. Robins again sent a single to left with one down, but was forced at second on Glaser's hit to Kelly. Vogt's hit to center put men on first and second with two down. Culloton hit one through the infield like a shot out of a rifle. Glaser and Vogt scoring and Bud making third on the blow. Bud was left on third when Shay ground-ed out to McCue.

Four runs in the eighth put the game away for the Colonials. Terpenning's single, Robins' sacrifice, hits by Glaser and Vogt, a three base wallop to right by Shay and an error by Cookingham on an easy-

COLONIALS BEAT RED HOOK 9 TO 5

"Cracker" Holden Is Hit Hard—Culloton Pitches Nice Game—All But Coyle Hit Safely—Series Is Now 2 to 1 In Red Hook's Favor.

"Cracker" Holden, he of the mighty left arm and wise noodle, went to the pitcher's box once too often against the Colonials this year. Twice before "Cracker" has held the Kingston team helpless, but it was a different story Saturday. The former Peekskill star was found for ten hits by Captain Schirick's men and as a result the Red Hook team went down to a 9 to 5 defeat at the hands of the Colonials.

There wasn't anything fluky about the way the local cohorts hammered Holden Saturday. Practically every one of the ten drives was of the whistling variety, and every one of the Colonials had a share in the hitting except Bobby Coyle. chance sent the four runners across. Three consecutive hits by DeGroff, Short and Ferris, and two slips by Shay on grounders by Holden and Curtis, gave the Red Hook men four tallies in their half of the ninth.

Happy Alderney.

There are no taxes of any kind in the island of Alderney.

The Cincinnati Reds, picked for seventh and eighth place by students of baseball form, came along with a last-minute rush yesterday, beat the Pirates twice and finished in second place right on the wire. They overcame Cooper and a four-run lead to win the first game, 5 to 4. In the second, Rixey held the Pirates to four hits.

The Browns came home with a victory in the final game, beating the White Sox 2 to 1 and reducing the Yankees ultimate margin to one game. They won in spite of a triple play, engineered by Eddie Collins in the second inning. He caught Pat Collins's liner, stepped on second, doubling Durrst, and threw to Shaeley, retiring McManus.

Completing the final week of the season in which they scored only five runs in five games, the Yankees lost a 6 to 1 decision to the Senators. Warmouth, a kid lefthander, confined the Yank attack to five hits.

The Cardinals stepped into an eleven-hour tie with the Pirates for third place in the National League by tying a fall out of the Cubs 7 to 1. By getting three hits out of five at bat, Hornsby lifted his season's mark to .401.

After McNamara, former Fordham pitcher had blanked the Giant regulars with two hits in the first game, the recruits came out for the second game and beat the Braves 3 to 0.

The Indians pulled out a ninth-inning victory over the Tigers in the final game of the year 6 to 5.

Pat Behan, Philadelphia rookie, shut the Dodgers right out, 6 to 0, in the season's finale.
